THE ULTIMATE IN MEDIA EXPOSURE

Elections have garnered the attention of the public and media alike for hundreds of years in the United States. Our sponsors have been able to leverage extensive media coverage as a result of their involvement with elections in one of the nation's largest voting jurisdictions. We've built-in appropriate terms to ensure distance between the process of elections and your involvement – allowing the public to focus on your sponsorship in positive ways.

BENEFITS OF BECOMING A CORPORATE SPONSOR

Elevate. Trust. Enhance. These are just a few of the words our sponsors have used to describe the benefits their organizations have experienced through participating in one of our sponsorships. Because there is no cost to our program – important laws prohibit the exchange of funds – it makes sense for your company to get involved today. In addition to valuable exposure in material we send to voters and volunteers throughout Orange County, every corporate sponsorship with our office entitles companies to marketing rights, category exclusivity and the use of designated County of Orange images and marks.

WITH THE ORANGE COUNTY REGISTRAR OF VOTERS

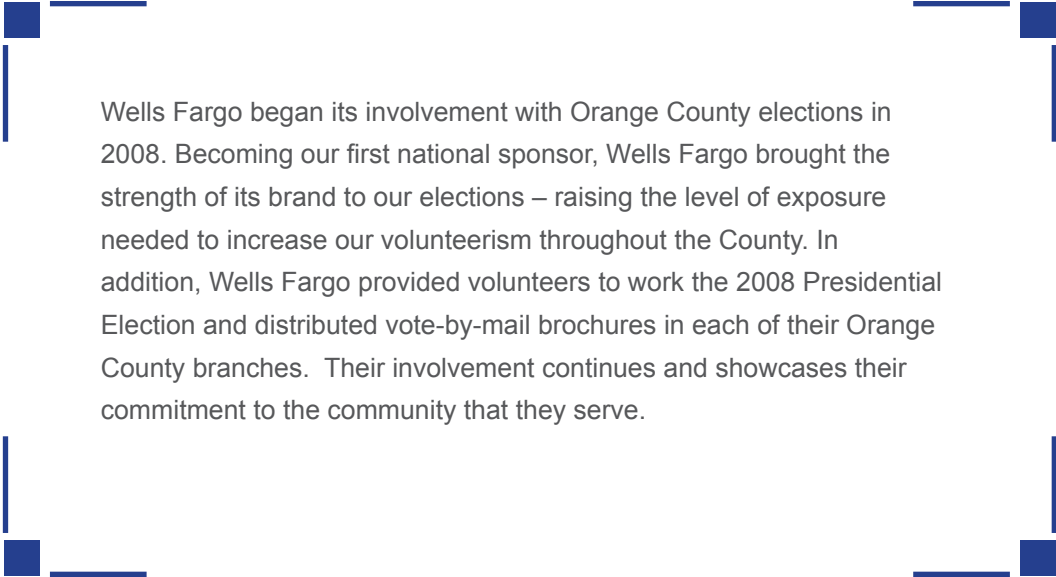

There are not many opportunities where you can receive thousands of impressions without making a monetary investment – all while helping voters along the way. The net effect for us? It eases our efforts to recruit more than 10,000 volunteers for every major election.

WELLS FARGO SPONSORSHIP

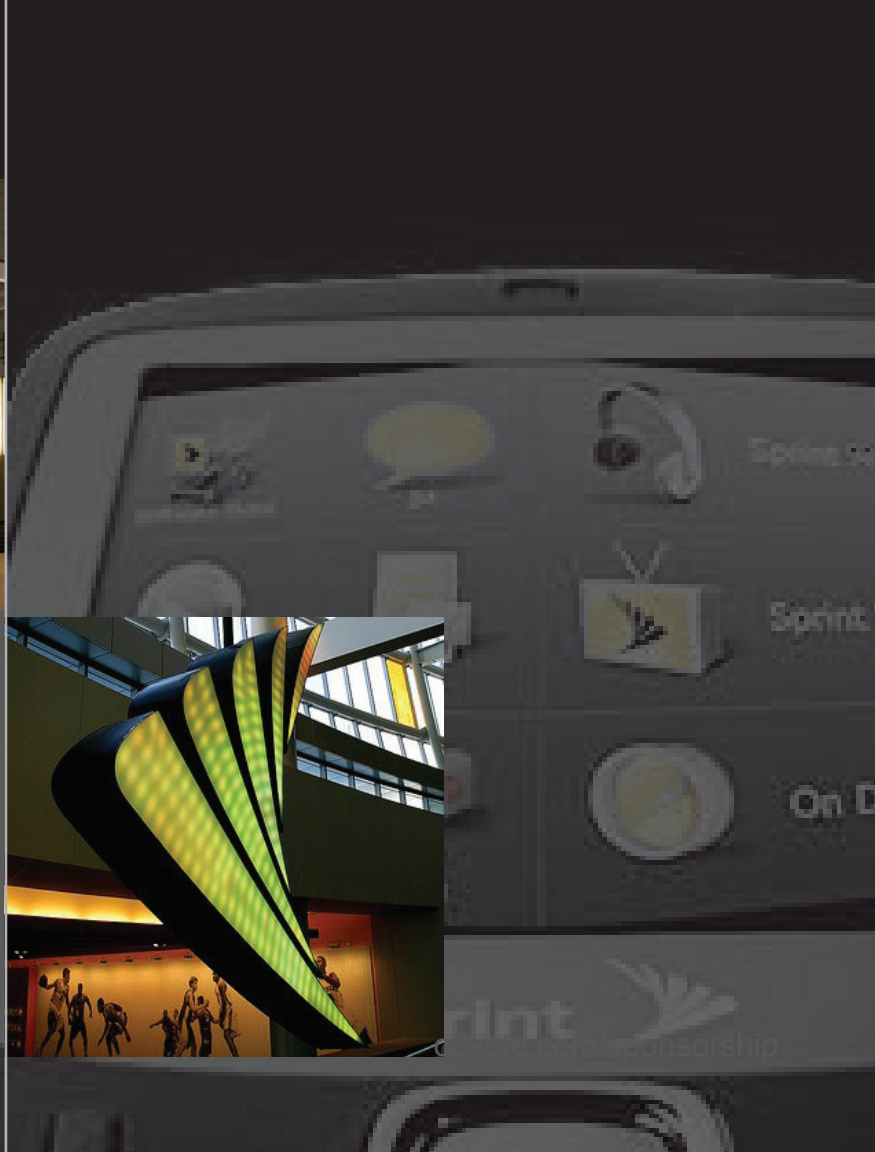

Wells Fargo began its involvement with Orange County elections in 2008. Becoming our first national sponsor, Wells Fargo brought the strength of its brand to our elections – raising the level of exposure needed to increase our volunteerism throughout the County. In addition, Wells Fargo provided volunteers to work the 2008 Presidential Election and distributed vote-by-mail brochures in each of their Orange County branches. Their involvement continues and showcases their commitment to the community that they serve.
